COVID-19 UPDATE

It has been more than 2 months since the global outbreak of COVID-19 and the epidemic threatens to cause a global economic slowdown, as lives and businesses continue to be strongly impacted by epidemic-related interventions.

As China's outbreak wanes, many Chinese cities are opening up and firms are gradually back in business.

All our Globelink offices in China have resumed operations and communication is functioning normally. However, there may be possible delay in shipments till the transport and personnel travel restriction are fully removed.

While the outbreak is slowing down in China, there are growing fears as clusters boom around the world with a spike in the number of infected cases in countries such as South Korea, Italy & Iran.

In response to a recent surge in the number of confirmed COVID-19 cases in South Korea, the South Korean government has raised the country's alert level to the highest.

Companies are focusing on preventive measures and buildings or factories affected by confirmed cases are being shut down for thorough disinfections.

There are also safety measures and Business Continuity Plan in place to safeguard the well-being of the staff in Globelink Offices and to ensure that we can continue to function.

We are closely following developments of the COVID-19 situation around the world.

We seek your patience and understanding if there is any delay in response from our fellow colleagues and we have every confidence that we can overcome this challenging period together.
